Looking Good

No matter what the circumstances, F.H.S. always comes through looking good!

Moving clockwise through pages two and three, Shelly Miller, Carolyn Shrader, Janet Kidd and Julie Adams rest at Donnell Stadium after walking in the homecoming parade.

F.H.S. has its own unique cheerleader — Mr. Taylor.

During the powder puff football game which the senior girls won, Connie Ross gets ready to hike the ball as center.

Sonja Stechschulte rejoices to find out a good friend is bidding on her at the swim team slave auction.

Michelle Wiseman puts the finishing touches on her cake for the New Year's Eve party.

Rich Metzker decides that a Big Mac and fries sound good for lunch.

A Touch of Class

Things have never looked so good at Findlay high school. The students were great achievers. The faculty enabled the students to grow in many ways. The athletes tried to the last second. The organizations supported the school tremendously and most of all, these qualities were tied together with outstanding school spirit.

Closeness, good times and hard work were our companions at the start of this year and will remain with us as we travel toward the future. Looking at what's ahead is like looking into a mirror — a great experience.

Scott May is aiming for perfect results on the black box experiment in Chemistry I.

STUDENT LIFE

Homecoming

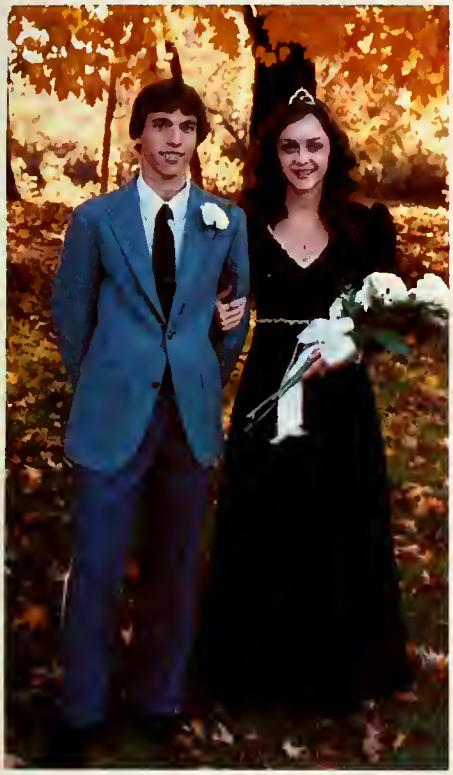
The Wonderful World of . . .



Homecoming was celebrated throughout the school week with various spirit activities including hat day, punk day, western day, college t-shirt day and blue and gold day in addition to hall decoration contests and the homecoming parade.

The evening began with a wonderful display of color and pageantry as the parade of Disney proceeded from Central junior high school to Donnell stadium. Despite the loss of the game to Zanesville, spirits were high as Dave Barnhill and Jody Buckles were crowned king and queen.

The court, beginning upper left and moving clockwise, consisted of John Kill and Ann Ball, Brad Weaver and Sara Burger, Joe Umbs and Connie Ross, Dave Barnhill and Marsha Freeman, and, Shannon Clark and Jody Buckles.

Following Friday evening's activities, a dance was held in the school cafeteria featuring the sounds of the band Cryer.

. . . Disney on Parade

An extensive amount of student and faculty involvement is combined in order to make homecoming week a successful and memorable event. Through the efforts of many groups and organizations, colorful window decorations and floats were created for this special happening.

The cafeteria undergoes a magnificent transformation during homecoming week as all attention is focused toward Saturday evening's dance. In the upper left photo, Shellie Kauffman decorates the hallway entrance to the cafeteria. Moving clockwise, Al Laux displays his spirit on hat day earlier during the week as he walks through the cafeteria with his lunch in hand. Below, the band Cryer entertains during the dance while Lori Reigle and her date, and, Brad Gray and Bethann Gallagher are locked in fond embraces on the dance floor. To the left, Steve Miller and Jill Raymond enter the dance through Shellie's completed decorations.

Hello, Dolly!

The music and drama departments combined their time, talent and energy to bring alive the popular musical, Hello, Dolly! on the high school stage March 25, 26, 27, and 28. Playing to sell-out crowds for each performance, the play was received enthusiastically by faculty, students and members of the community. Over 150 students from all areas of the school combined their talents to make the production a success. The play featured such popular songs as, "It Takes a Woman," "Put on Your Sunday Clothes," and the theme "Hello, Dolly!"

Singing Groups

Accent, Silver Lining and A Touch of Gold are all singing groups that have performed at the spaghetti dinner, choir concert and the Kiwanis pancake day. Members of Accent include John Kerr, Dan Hosler, Susan Gordon, Lydia Palmer, Kevin Kern, Mike Turnbell, Kevin Carty, Theresa Britton, Jill Wasbro, Rhonda Moor, Susan Taylor, Brad Benschneider, Jeff Lee, Steve Miller, Pam Herring, Jill Richter and Steve Kauffman. Faye Fung and Dan Hosler practice a dance step during an Accent performance. Todd Scranton, Jim Dreisbach, Dave Reynolds and Jim Wood represent A Touch of Gold.

Silver Lining consists of Debbie Hendricks, Heidi Reinhard, Lisa Meek, Lori Tesnow and Troy Litten.

La Classe de Francais IV

French IV students acquired a new project. They taught elementary students some beginning French. Jefferson, Ben Franklin, McKinley and St. Michaels schools were involved in this project. Earning ten points extra credit a week, the "teachers" went to each school once a week for three weeks during their French period.

French teacher Mrs. Bash commented that the response from the elementary schools was super and hopefully the program will continue in the future.

In the photos, moving clockwise, Anne Blake helps the kids count from one to ten. Katie Zaras points to the word jaune which means yellow. Playing French bingo, Sonya Lee makes sure the students understand the game. Traci Bartchlett explains the reasoning of a math problem in French.

Enthusiasm

The enthusiasm at F.H.S. is overwhelmingly superior. Students and teachers take pride in our incredible school. Over thirty percent of the student body is involved in the music department which includes choir, orchestra and band. "Practice makes perfect" is what Mr. Willford follows as he directs the junior-senior choir.

The sports program is rapidly growing with about twenty percent of the school involved. The participants get fired up by the fans' infinite spirit. Cheerleaders like Keely Kane and Shellagh Cavanaugh help ignite this spirit. Bells ringing at hockey games encourage Andy Trautman to score goals. Fans clapping keep Cheryl Stacy moving the ball around for two points.

Enthusiasm helps make F.H.S. the first-rate school it is!

Automotive

The students who take classes in the automotive department study under teachers Glen Giles and Don Unruh. The students learn everything from body work to brake jobs. Beginning in the lower left-hand corner and moving clockwise, we see Dean Mangus doing a brake job. Above, senior Brad Webb installs a distributor cap. Moving right, we see juniors Tim Stein and Roger Heckel discussing the engine of one of the cars in the shop. Below, Tim Wiler smiles for the camera as he makes engine adjustments.

Cosmetology

Students in cosmetology take classes at the State Beauty Academy under the direction of teacher Pat Reed. The students learn hairstyling while some study to become make-up artists. Most of the juniors work on manequins while the seniors actually work on live customers.

Carpentry

Under the direction and supervision of Ned Pahl and Marc Walters, the junior and senior carpentry classes built a one-story house for Ed Greeno.

Machine, Welding

"The World of Work" is the focus of students in the machine and welding programs. By the second semester of their senior year, many students have already secured jobs in local machine shops.

Safety is one of the key factors when working with any tool or machine according to machine shop teacher George Waldman and welding teacher Jim Haley. Both instructors are proud not only of the success of their students in "The World of Work" but also of their safety record.

Arena Scheduling

On May 5, 1073 sophomores and juniors were involved in "arena scheduling." Most students realize this is the day they will find out if they can get fifth period lunch, a certain teacher or early release. Some students get every class they want but others aren't as fortunate.

At the right, a volunteer parent explains to Becky Cross that the class she wants is full.

The Crucible

The Salem witch trials were taken very seriously and many innocent people died because of the deceitful minds of children and adults. These trials were portrayed in the first play of the school year. The Crucible was directed by Stephen Froelich and was presented by the drama club on November 13 and 14.

When asked why he selected this particular play, Mr. Froelich remarked, "I wanted to do a drama with a balance in male and female roles, with a relevant message, and because I did it when I was a sophomore in high school."

It took considerable cooperation on the part of the cast to perform such an intense drama. "Fro" was pleased with the cast; they were able to work well together. He feels it is essential to have a cast that labors tediously to perform a play; then, with a snap of a finger it all comes together for the two-evening performance.

Scenes from The Crucible, moving clockwise, show Mr. and Mrs. Proctor discussing the activities of Salem; the elders of the community, Thomas Putnam, Rebecca Nurse and Mrs. Ann Putnam trying to find a way to heal the ailing Betty Parris; Rev. Parris praying for the life of his daughter, Betty; and, Rev. Parris, Giles Corey and John Proctor discussing Betty's illness and the rumor of witchcraft in the town.

Scenes from The Crucible, moving clockwise, show Mr. Proctor and Mary Warren arguing after the first day of the trial; John Proctor and Rev. Hale having a discussion about the trial; Rev. Parris reprimanding Abigail for dancing; and Tituba revealing the names of the witches.

Mrs. Perlirzki	Vivane Fromer
Buckingham Caterers:
Red	Jeff Lee
Pete	Tim Roth
Jurie	Juri Morioka
Venda	Venda Dick
Paula	Paula Tricta

Scenes from Father of the Bride, moving clockwise, show Miss Bellamy reading from the guest list; Massoula's assistant, Joe, looking his best; Buckley and Kay having a slight lovers' spat; Mr. Banks and future son-in-law Buckley discussing whether or not there will be a wedding; and Mr. and Mrs. Banks showing their displeasure with Buckley.

The humorous yet heartbreaking side of marriage preparations was the theme of Father of the Bride directed by Judi Griffin and performed December 11 and 12.

Kay Banks and Buckley Dunston decide they want a simple church wedding; however, as the big day approaches the preparations get out of hand and quite extravagant. The number of guests grows larger while Mr. Banks' budget grows smaller.

According to Director Griffin, not only was the story line funny but rehearsals were humorous as well. There were some problems with the show — Brad Benschneider who played Mr. Banks developed laryngitis — but, in the end, it all came together to provide an enjoyable two evenings.

Dirty Work at the Crossroads

Dirty Work at the Crossroads, an old-fashioned melodrama, was presented on the FHS stage January 23 and 24. The play was directed by Barb Gebhardt, otherwise known as "Melodrama Mama."

The presentation itself was old-fashioned. The programs were styled after antique playbills and "footlights" were placed at the edge of the stage. Reaction seekers held signs so the audience could react accordingly. All in all, the play provided enjoyment for all who attended.

The evil Munro Murgatroyd wove his intricate web to try and trap Nellie Lovelace since he wanted her land for the railroad. But Nellie's heart belonged to Adam Oakhart, who was being tempted by the provocative Ida Reingold, who was also Munro's wife. Much to Nellie's dismay, Adam leaves for the foreign legion. Later, though, Adam is accused of murdering Mrs. Asterbilt and is taken to prison. Adam and Nellie are married and they have Little Nel. Of course, in the end, as in all melodramas, Adam, Nellie and Little Nel live happily ever after.

Scenes from Dirty Work at the Crossroads, moving clockwise across both pages, show Mookie and Nellie having a discussion in the garden; the evil Munro trying to do away with the widow Lovelace; Mrs. Asterbilt and Munro discussing Leonie; Munro's wife Ida showing up to throw his plan into a tizzy; Fleurette whispering sweet nothings to Mookie; Munro taking Little Nel prisoner while making Nellie tie Adam to the tracks; Ida enticing Adam with her ankle; and Munro realizing Ida has arrived.

One Acts

The 1982 One Acts were presented on the FHS stage on May 6, 7, 8, and 9. This year's One Acts provided a variety of comedy, drama, and mystery. Shift of Sanity was written and directed by Eric McKee, and Leave It To Woodchuck was written by FHS English teacher, Stephen Froelich. Thursday and Saturday nights, audiences saw Here We Are, Three On A Bench, Plaza Suite, Shift of Sanity, and Take a Letter. On Saturday afternoon, the audience enjoyed Toby, the Talking Turtle. On Friday night and Sunday afternoon, audiences saw Lovely Afternoon, At a Beetle's Pace, Leave It To Woodchuck, and The Haunted Auditorium.

Here We Are was presented on Thursday and Saturday nights. The lay, depicting a newly married couple about to face their honeymoon, as directed by Brad Benschneider. It featured sophomore Julie Yingling nd senior Kevin Kern.

Jeff Dunn directed Plaza Suite, a funny show with a serious point. It starred Pam Herring, Jeff Lee, Susan Taylor, and Dave Vantrease. The show was presented on Thursday and Saturday nights.

Eric McKee wrote and directed Shift of Sanity. This was Eric's first crack at writing and directing, and it was successful. "The show represented many aspects of society," commented McKee. The show starred Lori Tesnow, Jim Lodico, Steve Miller, and Joe Arras (not pictured).

One Acts

Policeman Paul Johnson brings enlightening and shocking news to Lt. Frank Baker in Shift of Sanity.

Three On a Bench featured Lisa McMenamin, Kevin Carty, and April Treece. The show was directed by Bill Ryder. Also included in the cast were Kelle Taylor, Karen Runta, Sarah Walker, and Scott Terner.

Dave Runta swears there was a ghost in his cast for the play, The Haunted Auditorium. Of course, no one believed him. His cast consisted of Lynn Shumaker, Jim Dreisbach, Jeff Bucher, Lisa Fristoe, and Diane Sorg. And, as usual, Dave insists, the Ghost.

Toby, the Talking Turtle, a traveling children's show was directed by Dottie Sink. When asked why she chose a children's show, Dottie replied, "I like making kids happy." Featured in the show were Mike Turnbell, Jill Wasbro, Cathe Haas, Martha Mahler, Dan Hosler, Nina Wagenka, Faye Fung, and Tim Roth (not pictured).

One Acts

Leave It To Woodchuck, a satirical comedy, was written by Stephen Froelich and directed by Julie Schaefer. The play dealt with the humorous aspects of everyday living. The cast consisted of, beginning in the lower left corner and moving clockwise, Kelly Sterling, Jim Wood, Mary Bihn, Chris Benham, Scott May, and Shellie Kauffman.

Karen Nash tries to cuddle up to her husband, Sam, but he wants no part of it. Waiter Dave Vantrease looks on in this scene from the play Plaza Suite in the upper, right photo.

La Semana

What? Foreign Language Week. Where? Findlay High School. When? February 8-12, 1982. Students and faculty were enriched with information about many foreign countries by informative speakers. Spain, Brazil, Germany, Australia, Japan and Finland were some of the countries involved in the week-long excitement.

Fine Arts Week

For the past five years, fine arts week has been a spring highlight at FHS. Drama workshops, orchestra, band and choir concerts and one act plays are all a part of the weeklong festivities. One big disappointment for all interested was the discontinuation of the potters' olympics which had been a focal point of fine arts week in years past. Cancellation of the olympics was due, in part, to financial difficulties; however, everything scheduled turned out magnificently as an abundance of student talent was seen throughout the week.

Below, art student Mike Kotlarczyk and art teacher Dale Schmidt set-up the art exhibit in the office hallway.

The art of pyrotechnics was discussed by this expert from Ohio University during a seminar.

Featured during one assembly was the FHS string quartet of Kristie Klueter, Mary Johnson, Elmer Cabotage and Lisa Elderbrock.

Prom

On May 14, the Junior class presented the 1982 prom with the theme "Somewhere Down the Road." The couples were entertained by the music of the band Cinch. The dance was held at the Country Club and ran from 8:30 to 11:30. The weather was excellent, but some couples got wet as they wandered through the golf course, where the sprinklers were on.

Below, Blake Gilley and Gretchen Smith seem to be enjoying the evening.

To the right, Traci Bartchlett surveys the crowd while her date, Dave Saunders, goes for some punch.

In the lower right corner, Dave Haas and Sonia Bame find a dry bench on which to sit and enjoy each others company.

Prom

The photo at the bottom of the page shows many of the couples taking advantage of the chance to sit back and relax under the tent in front of the entrance to the Country Club. Away from the strains of the music inside the Club, they could enjoy quiet moments alone or with friends.

To the left, Brad Weaver and Andrea Scharff contemplate the future evening's activities, "Somewhere Down the Road" after they leave the Country Club.

Somewhere

Beginning at the right and moving clockwise, Brenda Smith and Jeff Swihart get down to the beat that Cinch provided. Duane Mains and Anne Faisant enjoy a quiet walk alone on the golf course. Eric McKee and Kathy Pahl enjoy a slow dance, and despite the crowd, they seem to be off in their own world.

Down the Road

Graduation

Over 530 seniors received diplomas on a hot, sultry afternoon at Donnell Stadium June 6. The theme of the event, "I am not afraid of tomorrow for I have seen yesterday and I love today" unified the four speeches presented by the class speakers.

Featured speakers, pictured from top to bottom to the right, were John Kill, William Ryder, Paul Williams, and Fiona Williamson. Special music was presented by the FHS choir.

Class valedictorian was Lisa Elderbrock and salutatorian was Jill Stacy.

Jeff Lee anxiously awaits the start of the graduation ceremonies.

. . . Sink or Swim

"What a mess!" This exclamation was uttered by nearly every person in Findlay last June. That was when the town was hit by the worst flood since 1913. Houses, cars, nearly everything was underwater. Findlay's Sanitation Department warned people that the water was unclean and they should not expose themselves to it. Many residents, however, did venture out but their only form of transportation was rafts, boats, and innertubes.

What started off as any other thunderstorm proved to be devastation for many. Richard Kondik, Findlay High School's band instructor, lost an exorbitant amount of sheet and band music when his basement was flooded.

Some people beat out the worst of the flood. Gene Stevens, a local car dealer, parked all of his cars on the Central Parkway overpass, when he saw the torrential downpour starting.

After calling in the National Guard and doing a lot of cleaning up, Findlay residents were able to get back on their feet again and get things back to normal.

Rookie Valenzuela wins Cy Young award

He left the world of baseball gasping as if it had just swallowed a hot tamale. His name is Fernando Valenzuela and he is hot indeed. The young Mexican pitcher went 13-7 for the Los Angeles Dodgers hurling them all the way to the World Series. The twenty year old major leaguer was one of the top strike-out kings in the league. He was also the first player to win the Rookie of the Year award and the Cy Young award, which many people felt should have gone to Cincinnati's Tom Seaver.

The young left-hander finally reported late to LA's 1982 spring training camp after holding out for a multi-million dollar contract.

World News Highlights

Many important things went on in the world during our 1981-1982 school year. Americans ventured into outer space on the Space Shuttle Columbia, yet kept busy at home as well.

Secretary of State Alexander Haig played the role of peacemaker while war raged on between Britain and Argentine forces surrounding the Falkland Islands. A second attempt was made on Pope John Paul II's life during another of his lengthy crusades.

Meanwhile, Americans suffered through a terrible recession, with high interest and unemployment rates. A violent incident in Egypt saw Anwar Sadat killed by enemy guerrillas while several other dignitaries were wounded. The would-be assassin of President Ronald Reagan stood trial, hoping his insanity defense will hold up.

Other famous celebrities who died this past school year were John Belushi, Natalie Wood, Bill Haley, Joe Louis, and William Holden.

Marathon Oil Survives Mobil Oil Takeover Bid

In October of 1981, residents of Findlay were in a state of shock. The reason? They had just been informed that Mobil Corporation was contemplating a merger with their home-based Marathon Oil company. The merger, had it taken place, would have been devastating for the entire town.

First, not only would many Marathon employees have lost their jobs, but local businesses would have suffered as well.

For these reasons the people of Findlay decided it was time to fight back. While Marathon lawyers were filing suit in a federal court in Cleveland, local residents took matters into their own hands. On November 6, prior to an FHS football game vs. Lorain Admiral King, a huge rally was held. The 5,000 supportive fans wore Marathon hats and buttons and speeches were given by Congressman Michael Oxley, State Representative Charles Earl, Mayor Bentley Burr, and local businessman Clavin Thatcher, who organized the event.

A second rally, held on Veteran's Day, climaxed the entire ordeal. The parade featured the FHS marching band and was followed by a meeting of Marathon shareholders. Speaking was the company's president Harold Hoopman and Senator Howard Metzenbaum.

By that time U.S. Steel, based in Pittsburgh, had let it be known that it was interested in merging with Marathon. This merger would cause no monopoly, as would the Mobil one, and U.S. Steel could not move the company. They would stay in Findlay.

Early in 1982, a U.S. court ruled that Mobil was in violation of federal anti-trust laws and no merger would take place between the two companies. The path was cleared for U.S. Steel.

Television crews from across the nation flocked to Findlay to capture the excitement and fervor of the Marathon parade. In the photo to the right, cameramen get a close-up shot of FHS drill team members.

The Pursuit of Ca$h

Seventy to eighty percent of the student body pursued part time jobs this year. For most of the working students, it was a necessity to hold a job so they could enjoy the few small comforts people our age enjoy. Working twenty to twenty-five hours per week usually didn't interfere with school work.

Saving money for college, the future, clothes, a car, and just to afford a healthy social life were common reasons for working. Experience for future careers was also a beneficial reason.

The minimum wage was $3.35, which is what the majority of the working students earned.

Part time jobs were not easily found in Findlay because of the national recession. Luck, knowing somebody, or filling out four or five applications helped someone find a much-wanted job.

Seniors

Class of 82

The 1982 senior class members have various talents and skills. In the picture to the left, Scott Lafferty works on a mechanical drawing six-weeks project. Below, Bill Ryder shows both his community and school spirit as he joins with the marching band to participate in the Marathon Oil Company's downtown rally; the local oil company successfully fought off a take-over attempt by Mobil Oil. Ryder, with his sousaphone and gala decorations was one of thousands in the area who supported a successful merger with U.S. Steel which thwarted the Mobil attempt. To his right, Robin Fuhlbrigge rehearses a song with the choir in preparation for a concert.

Seniors said goodbye to FHS but will carry with them throughout their lives memories of the many activities in which they were involved and the skills and talents which they polished during their three years on Broad Avenue.

Looking Good Is

Whether students are at work in the classroom, in a fond embrace in the hallway, performing in one of the many student plays or merely having a little adolescent fun, there is no denying they're looking good. Looking good in the photo below is director Dave Hanson with the Hello Dolly orchestra before one of the group's final rehearsals. The musicians added their own individual spice to the production's musical accompaniment. To the right, DeWayne Van Atta and Shawn Hunt happily bid a brief farewell before heading off to their separate classes. To their right, Lisa McMenamin gently embraces Jim Newhard during a tender scene from The Crucible. Meanwhile, Matt Sterling takes a break from the real world to revert to an imaginary time when driving a car was no more than sitting at a plastic dashboard. Whatever they do, Findlay students are always looking good.

Easy at FHS

Hey! Look Us Over

It is never unusual to see students and faculty alike approach their work with total commitment and enthusiasm. Whether it is a mock wedding in a Quest class or putting away magazines in the library, total dedication to the project is the rule. A walk through the halls and past the classrooms will find the entire high school community diligently at work. After school and on weekends, student-athletes compete with that same dedication as they give their best on the athletic field of competition. When looking over Findlay High School students and faculty, a person is looking over groups of hard workers.

Look At Us and

Education does not always take the form of classroom book work. This is often seen by the practical application of knowledge in the vocational and science departments. Here students apply the skills they have learned as illustrated below by Dewayne Jett as he works on a carpentry project. Susan Schofield and David Lemon gingerly handle the science department's prize boa constrictor, Bonnie, during a class session in the greenhouse. In the photograph in the center of the pages, Susan and David carefully put to use their scientific knowledge.

All We Do

Juniors were kept busy with many activities during the year. Tops on their list was the junior-senior prom, which they organized. Money for the prom came from various fund raising projects. They included candy sales, an Earnest Tubb concert, and dual memory picture day. ACT and SAT tests were another thing the juniors had to contend with in their preparation for college. Now they are content to "let the good times roll" as they relax during their senior year.

Members of the sophomore class enjoyed their transition from junior high school students to high school students. They became actively involved in all aspects of student life at FHS including exceptional performances in music, drama and athletic events in addition to their academic and vocational studies. After the early confusion of adjusting to a new building, new schedules and new teachers, they began to look forward to the leadership roles they will assume as juniors.

Administration

With the addition of two new principals, the administrative staff again provided strong leadership for both students and teachers.

Mr. John Celebrezze and Mr. William Lindeman were the administration's two new principals. Although Mr. Celebrezze came to F.H.S. in April of 1981, this was his first full year here as an assistant principal. Mr. Lindeman came here from Woodmore High School where he taught science. Mrs. Margaret Gibson has been an assistant principal for five years.

This was Mr. Robert Shamp's third year as principal. He commented that the school year went very well and stressed the importance of the cooperation of students and faculty in creating a successful school year.

Faculty

The faculty became more involved in school activities this year. During spirit week many teachers showed their school spirit by dressing up on western day, blue and gold day, and punk day. This was the second year for the faculty council which gave the teachers more input in school policies.

One of the council's activities was the sponsorship of a spaghetti dinner to raise money for the faculty scholarship fund. Each year they provide for one academic and one vocational scholarship of $100 each. This year's dinner according to faculty council President Richard Kidwell was "very successful."

The third best runner ever in Findlay high school history, Jim Murphy, holds his pace. Murphy, a senior, posted his best time of 12:35 this year, eleven seconds off Randy Mowery's school record of 12:24 set in 1976.

Cross Country

Coach John Didich refers to Trojan cross country as a dynasty; he may be right. Led by captains Dave Dray and Jim Murphy, the 1981 team won the Buckeye Conference, sectional and district championships and went on to a twelfth place showing the state race.

At the awards banquet Murphy was honored for earning the most points (196) and Jeff Smith recognized for having the runner-up point total (162). All fifteen runners earned enough points for a varsity letter.

Only four of those fifteen will not return next year. Maybe the dynasty will live on.

In the photo at the left, Coach John Didich anxiously awaits his team to cross the finish line as Sara Burger is ready to record the runners' times.

The photos to the coach's right show, from the top, Mike Murphy, Sherm Everett and Jim King struggling along the course.

Football

It was a tough season for the FHS Trojans (the team finished in a tie for fourth place in the Buckeye conference). However, new records were set and school support was strong at the games.

Junior quarterback Bruce Porter led the Trojan attack and completed the season as the number one passer in FHS history. He completed 142 passes for 1778 yards breaking the record set in 1971 by Cliff Hite. Shannon Clark, a familiar target of Porter, established a new pass-receiving record with sixty-nine receptions for 1060 yards.

Football

Despite a losing season, fan support was strong for the Trojan football team. At the final game against Lorain Admiral King excitement was high as the community rallied behind the team and the Marathon Oil Company which was fighting a takeover by Mobil Oil. Marathon hats and buttons were sported by the fans while the FHS band did its part by playing "Down by the Old Mill Stream." This last game of the season ended with a much-desired victory for the Trojans.

From top to bottom in the photos in the center of the page, Lonnie Blakley, Doc Slough and Bill Diver give their all during a never-say-die season.

The Trojan team crowds together in a huddle before the action of the next play starts as the moon and an official look on. Most of the games were played on brisk, moonlit evenings such as this one.

Tim Imber and Ed Flores make a tackle for the junior varsity team. Like the varsity, the junior varsity team had a frustrating season of tough breaks and close games. Team members hope to improve on their two victory season when they join the varsity ranks.

Soccer

Findlay soccer is making a name for itself, playing a tough schedule and still winning.

The 1981 team had character, too.

The infamous "suicide run" was the juniors' van trip to away games. Everyone lived. But the team was plagued by injuries. Captain John Kill suffered a broken leg early in his senior season. The many less serious injuries were handled by student trainer Cathy Swisher.

At the awards banquet, Coach Albert Laux commended the seniors as a fine group and challenged the juniors to another great season.

The photos at the right show common sights of FHS soccer. From the top, Coach Albert Laux gives final instructions, Off protects all fall athletes from mosquitoes (which were unusually dense as a result of the wet summer), and Rich Metzker executes a throw-in.

Soccer

Despite 1981 being only the second girls varsity soccer season in FHS history, the squad's morale was high, win or lose. The team ended its season with a winning record, despite losing to four of the best teams in the state.

But losing to top-notch teams never discouraged the girls. In fact, they bounced back to defeat top-ranked Upper Arlington and Eastwood. Julie Uncapher, Cohan Dierkshiede, and captain Jenny Trice broke the school record of goals scored in a game by contributing three tallies apiece to the eleven FHS scored to Eastwood's zero.

Volleyball

The 1981 varsity volleyball team lost many matches it felt it should have won. In many situations, it won the first game but failed to take the second it needed to win the match.

"The girls tried to the best of their abilities," according to Coach Dick Wohlgamuth. He emphasized at the volleyball awards banquet that it was not a negative season, despite a six wins to sixteen losses record.

On the positive side, Chris Cunningham was selected for the conference's second team while Sonia Bame and Julie Yingling were awarded honorable mentions.

The photos to the near left show, from the top, Jodi Petry saying "High five!", the object of the game, and Val Edelbrock following her serve.

Volleyball

The junior varsity volleyball team used its outstanding talent to record twenty-one victories and one loss. According to Coach Dick Wohlgamuth, the girls were a "good bustling bunch of volleyball players." The team was successful because of its consistently good setting, spiking, and serving.

Key offensive players JoLynn Williamson and Susan Deeds spiked for the varsity squad by the end of their sophomore season, while the junior varsity attack relied on Amy Schwepe's and Cindy Yeager's dependable sets for wins.

Tennis

Coach Jim Hayes' girls tennis team was visible for reasons other than ability. Banana-yellow Adidas sweats, Becca Farris' tape deck, and Hayes' jumprope enthusiasm declared its presence.

Last year's shutout record was tied before a supportive crowd of parents, friends, and concerned members of the boys tennis team.

Captain Connie Ross received the three-year "F" trophy and Julie Adams accepted the most valuable player plaque for the second time at the awards session held at the Findlay "Y" Racquet Club. There, the club professional outlined winter program plans to prepare the girls for an excellent 1982 season.

Buckeye conference medalist, Bill Lundeen, prepares to drive. Lundeen, a sophomore, is the only golfer in FHS history to qualify individually for the state tournament. There, he finished fifth. He looks forward to two more stellar years ahead.

Golf

Coach Tom Reynolds felt that his 1981 linksters were the best golfers, on and off the green, he ever had the privilege to instruct.

Depth was the key to the Trojans' perfect record. The squad's nine-man average is the best ever at FHS. Therefore, if someone had an off day, a teammate would keep the tally low.

In addition to sporting a twenty-five wins to no losses record, the group captured the Buckeye crown for the eighth consecutive year. The team took the sectional title for the second year in a row and went on to place third in the district.

The photo to the far left shows captain Cheryl Stacy completing her well-known stroke. Stacy was ranked tenth nationally among eighteen-year-old girls. She will play for Ohio State University on a golf scholarship.

Basketball

Nine consecutive victories got the varsity girls off to a perfect start. Last year's Buckeye champions retained the crown, recording eighteen wins and five losses in Coach Bill Lobb's record book.

The squad gained confidence and clinched the Buckeye by defeating the unbeaten co-championship unit of Lorain Admiral King.

The Findlay team went on to complete a sixteen wins and four losses regular season. The decisive last game was not the least. FHS trounced undefeated Lima Bath, mentally preparing to take the sectional title.

In the photo to the far left, Cheryl Stacy brings the ball down the floor. Her outstanding skill placed her, along with junior teammate Jodi Petry, on the All-Buckeye and district eight first teams.

In the photo to the near left, Lynn Baerwalt tries to be as consistent as three-year letter-winner Stacy, who holds the best free-throw percentage on the team.

Ten sophomores from three rival junior high schools forgot their loyalties to Central, Donnell, and Glenwood to take the floor as Findlay Trojans.

They represented their school well, compiling a record of seventeen wins and three losses. The junior varsity squad, like the varsity, shared the Buckeye crown with Lorain Admiral King.

According to Coach Judy Pelphrey, the team set and reached very high standards for FHS athletics.

Basketball

The varsity basketball team ended with a disappointing year, finishing fourth in the Buckeye conference and with a record of 9-12. It was Coach Renz's first losing season of his career. The high point of the Trojan's season was beating Lorain Senior while they were undefeated and first in the conference.

Mark Fry was selected for the second team Buckeye while Duane Mains and Jamie Houdeshell were chosen for the third team. Other awards went to Shannon Clark for defense, and Ken Bame for most improved player.

Basketball

The junior varsity basketball team posted a .500 season with a mark of 10-10. Led by Coach Joe Mihalik the j.v. team had a fair year. Joe Plott led the team in scoring and in rebounds. Standouts on the team were Scott Fryer, who ended the year with the varsity squad and Plott who also played for the varsity at the closing of the season. Plott and Jim Arnold were added to the tournament roster when two players were not able to play because of illness.

Swimming

"Stars on Water" turned out to be an accurate slogan for the girls swim team. Their 15-2 record helped them become Buckeye champs and take a fifth place at district.

Mike Leatherman was a new addition to the coaching staff while Gary Layne ended his FHS coaching career.

A hayride, a spaghetti dinner, an overnighter and a Christmas bash sparked the social part of the season. Good times, closeness and hard work helped achieve the team's goals.

Swimming

The 1981-82 season was successful for Findlay, completing it with an 11-4 record and a berth as Northwest Ohio district runners-up. Tim Fenbert and Scott Chisholm each broke a school record while Jim McGuire received an All American honorable mention proving individual talents were also apparent. The team voted McGurie MVP, Chisholm most improved, and Brent Niswander most competitive. This year also marked Coach Snow's 100th victory since beginning his career here nine years ago.

Hockey

The 1981-82 hockey team had a rewarding season finishing fifth in the Northwest Ohio hockey conference with a record of 13-12. Coach Root didn't feel the team's record reflected the ability within the team. Contributing factors were two out of three team captains suffering injuries during the season keeping both out for about one month.

Special awards honoring outstanding players were given at the awards banquet. Most valuable player was Matt Davies, rookie of the year was Tim Smith, and the 110 percent award was given to Dave Hilkert.

To the far left, Matt Davies pushes his opponent to get at the puck. The center pictures, from top to bottom, show Dave Hilkert involved in the constant struggle demonstrated by all players, the game's most important equipment and Jim Ross moving in on the action.

Gymnastics

Tumbling, twirling, whriling and swirling, the gymnastics team, with the help of Coach Judy Beck, again posted a winning season. Along with a 10-3 record, the team placed first at the Galion invitational and finished fifth in district competition. At the district meet, Tina Mihaly placed first in the all-around competition and duplicated that feat at the state meet.

Mihaly was named most valuable gymnast. Sharon Brink received the most improved award and Keli Cornwell the 110 percent honor.

Wrestling

In spite of a 10-10 season mark and a last place finish in the Buckeye confernece, the Trojan wrestling team had numerous bright spots.

Topping the list of accomplishments was the stellar performance of veteran Joe Heater. Heater set two season records and two career records. Jim Hoppel was another Trojan mainstay earning berths on five season and career record lists. Dave Roether's 31 victories earned him the fifth spot on the most-wins-for-a-season chart and put him ninth on the career list with 43. In the conference tournament Heater placed first, Hoppel fourth, Roether third, Scott McIntosh fourth, Eldemar Cabotage fourth and Elmann Cabotage fourth.

In the photo at the left, Joe Heater manuevers an opponent. Heater completed a stand-out three year career with the 1982 season. Among his accomplishments were: 1982 most valuable wrestler; most wins in a season (38); most career wins (78); most takedowns in a season (128); and most career takedowns (196). Heater ranks third in career pins at FHS with 30 and second in won-lost percentage during a season with a 38-4 overall record. He ranks fourth in career won-lost percentage with a 78-27 record.

Hoppel had a very successful season for the Trojans winning 25 matches and placing sixth on the career win list with 48. Hoppel had 83 takedowns during the season placing him fourth in all-time takedowns and his 147 takedowns earned him the third spot on the career takedown list. His 25-8 mark placed him ninth on the all-time seasonal won-lost chart.

Track

The 1982 girls track team had a successful season despite its mediocre record. The addition of ten sophomores gave the squad depth while the juniors contributed experience and the seniors provided leadership.

Several records were broken by the girls, who usually either won sensationally or not at all. Junior Becca Fariss and sophomores Diane Pollack and JoLynn Williamson figured in the new standards of two events apiece. Sherri Chevalier, also a sophomore, broke the shot put record enroute to a fourth place state finish. Overall, the team shattered records in six of fourteen events.

In the photo above, most valuable Jodi Petry is determined to take the lead.

Tennis

The 1982 boys tennis team was powered not only by seniors, but underclassmen as well. Junior Dale Wynkoop compiled the team's best record of 21-8 and was most valuable player. Sophomore D.P. Baker teamed with Brad Weaver to take the Buckeye doubles title.

Findlay hosted sectionals, where Greg Olsen surprised the field by winning the singles draw, while teammate Monte Schaefer finished third. In doubles competition, Brad Baker and Dale Wynkoop retained their crown. At districts, they suffered a semifinal setback, forfeiting a trip to state by one point.

The photo to the far left, silhouettes singles player Dale Wynkoop against a typically overcast spring sky. Wynkoop is shown stretching for the serve that led him to a 21-8 season.

At his right, Rich Weldy exerts all his strength in serving. Below him, D.P. Baker prepares to volley.

Softball

Becky Durbin's pitching led the softball team to ten shutouts and the Buckeye and sectional titles. Offensively, Sherry Thomas cracked the bats with a .372 average, earning the team batting trophy. Cindy Yeager was also a key hitter.

But on and off the field, Marsha Freeman, 110 percent player, kept the team fired-up. A three-year letter winner, Freeman relied on experience and spirit to captain the squad of fourteen underclassmen and three seniors.

Baseball

This very disappointing season for the 1982 baseball team was a "bitter pill to swallow." The Trojans were close in nearly evey game, but they just could not get the big hit or the big out at the right time.

Shannon Clark, who was the only returning starter on the team led in almost all hitting and pitching categories. Clark, also, was placed on the first team all-Buckeye conference.

One encouraging note is the fact that the team will have six starters returning for next year's baseball team, which hopefully will be the base for a better season.

Choir

Steve Miller and Pam Herring practice a new song for the mid-winter.

The choir was looking good from the first performances in the fall to the last at graduation. In the fall concert the combined choir started on its way to success with the presentation of "Fame." Not only did they sing but with the aid of Mrs. Barb Hennigs, they danced too. At the Christmas program the junior-senior choir, coupled with the sophomore choir, presented the well known story "The Night Before Christmas," in song. Furthermore, the highlights of the mid-winter concert were a Beach Boys medley and the sounds of a barber shop quartet. Then in the spring they presented "Winds of the Sixties" and at graduation they sent the seniors singing on their way.

These four outstanding performances were directed by Mr. Fredric Willford.

To the right, Elmer Cabotage concentrates on every note in "Intermezzo" by Zoltan Kodaly, which was played at the annual Pops Concert.

Orchestra

The 1981-1982 orchestra was looking good as Mr. David Hanson directed members through a season of excellence. At the annual Pops Concert on November 20, 1981, the orchestra played a variety of songs, ranging from the classic "Hungarian Dance No. 6" to selections from "A Chorus Line" and "Hello, Dolly!" Then after a year of practice, they performed their Finale Spring Concert on May 18, 1982.

The orchestra also participated in two music festivals. At the All-City Orchestra Festival, where all orchestras within the school system participate, all seats in the FHS gymnasium were filled. Furthermore, the FHS orchestra also participated in a festival held at Kent State University. The orchestra also performed at area schools throughout the spring.

Bands

All the hot summer practices and tedious after school sectionals, under the direction of Richard Kondik and James Mitchell, was time well spent. This was apparent during district competition in Lima, where the FHS class AA band received four superior ratings. Their excellent performance at the district level enabled them to move on to the state competition in Upper Sandusky.

Through the rain, sleet, and snow the FHS band appeared at all the home football games and all but one of the out of town games, to support the team and add spirit to the crowd. Likewise volunteer members of the band performed during every home basketball game.

Not only did the FHS Band participate in school events, but they were also active in community events. Beginning with the homecoming parade, and ending with the Memorial Day parade, the FHS band entertained all bystanders. The band also showed their support during the Marathon parade, where all the members wore red Marathon baseball caps and "I love Marathon" buttons.

Besides all the other activities, the band also held three concerts, one for marching band and two for concert band, in the winter and spring.

Forensics

The forensics team is the combination of debate and individual events. The debate team, coached by Dan Matheny, consistently placed in the top three of all thirteen tournaments in which they competed. This was the third consecutive year that Findlay won the district championship in debate. In the state competition, the team competed in the semi-finals only to be defeated by the eventual state champion.

Individual events, coached by Barb Gebhardt, also compiled an impressive record. Of the 21 team members at least one placed in every tournament. I.E. members competed in six categories: original oratory, duet acting, prose and poetry, dramatic and humorous interpretation, oratory, and extemporaneous speaking. Two team members, Kevin Carty and Frank Fraley qualified for the state tournament.

Drama Club

Drama Club always plays an important role in any high school. The drama club is, for the most part, responsible for all of the productions given at Findlay high school. This year those included: "The Crucible" directed by Steve Froelich; "Father of the Bride" directed by Judi Griffin; "Dirty Work at the Crossroads" directed by Barb Gebhart; "Hello Dolly" directed by the entire drama faculty; and the collection of one acts directed by the directing class. Drama clubbers are most often found in front of or inside of room 234. This room is to drama clubbers like a malt shop was to the fifties' crowd.

Drama club also has many social activities which include a Halloween party, a punk dance, picnics, and a banquet at the end of the year. Many students in drama club intend to continue in the theatrical field, pursuing a career in acting or in the technical part of productions.

Youth in Government

Youth in Government is a first-hand experience at running the state government. During the first weekend of April ten students from FHS went to Columbus to present bills which they had been preparing since fall. While in session, positions held by FHS students were: Attorney General, Tim Fenbert; Committee Chairmen, Jeff Waldron and Angie Fenton; Secretary of Transportation and Commerce, Shelly Miller. Miller was also elected Governor for 1982-83.

Thespians

The Thespians are an honorary group of students active in drama. To become a Thespian, students have to accumulate a total of ten points. It took approximately ten hours of work to receive only one point. Furthermore, the student had to have worked on at least two shows and on one crew.

Members paid a ten dollar membership fee and they received a year's subscription to Dramatics magazine.

Junior Classical League

Junior Classical League was designed to promote interest in classical culture and philosophy. The group, which was primarily made-up of first year students, held a Roman banquet where they performed plays they had written.

Foreign Language Club

The Foreign Language Club devoted most of its time to three major events, a Christmas program, organization of foreign language week, and the annual banquet, where Hawaiian, Greek, German, and Italian foods were served.

Medical Careers

Medical Careers explored all aspects of modern medical fields. They visited different areas at the Blanchard Valley Hospital and took a fun and informative trip to the Medical College of Ohio.

Campus Life

Every week Campus Life held a meeting at students' homes. During this time participants discussed areas pertaining to the mental, social, physical and spiritual aspects of high school life. Group activities included ski trips, a trip to Florida, and the annual vacation by bike.

Sci-Fi Club

1981-82 was the first year for the Science-Fiction Club. It was designed to promote and share the enjoyment of science-fiction reading. Members attended various lectures and discussions concerning science-fiction.

They did not meet on a regular basis, however, they are in the process of planning fundraisers for 1982-1983, to perhaps start a science-fiction library and science-fiction conventions and writing contests.

Office Runners

The office runners donate their time during study halls to assist the principals and office staff. Some of the many duties of the office runners are stuffing mailboxes, delivering messages to students and teachers, addressing envelopes, making schedule changes, compiling daily attendance and running other miscellaneous errands for principals and secretaries.

Media Club

Members of the media club are student volunteers who assist with the overall operation of the library and media center. Student assistants work in the library and media center during their study halls. Library workers organize vertical file materials, shelve books, file magazines, check books in and out and write study hall lists. Their counterparts in the media center pick-up and deliver audio visual equipment, assist teachers in the operation of the equipment and assist students in audio visual productions.

DECA

Distributive Educational Clubs of America, DECA, had many activities during the 1981-82 school year. Some of these activities were selling mums, being trained in area businesses, and operating the school bookstore. DECA officers were president, Dave Gruber; vice president, Tom Hamlin; secretary, Sheila Davis; and treasurer, Pam Thomas.

C.O.E.

Cooperative Office Education is a course designed for seniors who have attained a high level of skills in one or more of the following areas: typing, shorthand, accounting, or keypunch. Students are in class in the mornings and work about three hours in the afternoons in an office. In C.O.E. related classes students learn skills on electric calculators, telephone equipment, transcribing machines, and further develop their typing abilities.

Some of the employment opportunities related to this class are secretary, receptionist, bank employee, and clerk typist.

V.I.C.A.

VICA was the biggest club at FHS; this club was made up of all trade and industry students. In the fall at a meeting held at FHS, the Northwest Ohio VICA leaders and queen were selected. Todd Hickle of FHS was elected vice-president and Sherrie Wilson also of FHS was chosen queen.

In addition, the 1981-82 VICA students at FHS incorporated some new concepts. They painted murals on all walls in the trade and industry wing, and started a VICA showcase. Furthermore, a club flag, bought by VICA alumni, is now flown at the school entrance. All these things add pride to vocational education.

I.O.E.

I.O.E. consists of four different block programs. Office Specialist I teaches students basic business operations and the use of office machines. Office Specialist II broadens first year skills while working in true-to-life situations. Secretarial Administration is for students interested in working in various business offices as secretaries or stenographers. Accounting Computer Specialist is designed with emphasis on data and word processing, accounting and other clerical activities.

Exchange Students

Vivane Fromer, Switzerland: "I did not have just good times; FHS will always have a special place in my heart."

Paula Tricta, Brazil: "FHS and all the people contributed many things to make my experience very valuable."

Sophie Rozet, Belgium: "I made some very good friends among the students and I appreciated the easy and humoristic contacts with the teachers."

Juri Morioka, Japan: "There's no doubt that I like FHS better than my Japanese school."

Marjut Kulmakorpi, Finland: "I like FHS because of all the other classes I can take which I can't take in Finland."

Enrique Vernet, Spain: "Seeing how people are educated to become responsible citizens has been a great aid whenever I have to face a new situation."

Sports Helpers

Adding spirit and lending a hand, spirit groups spent much of their time serving the various teams.

The dedicated soccerettes met every Sunday at Missy Robert's house to make signs. The team ran through these signs at the start of each home game. The soccerettes also held bake sales.

Advisor Terry Heater commented that the wrestlerettes were a "pretty active group." They collected $455 during the annual rock-a-thon. The girls also set up for every home match and tournament.

Likewise the track helpers, advised by John Didich, kept time and statistics during all home track meets.

Cheerleaders

The 1981-82 cheerleaders were not only outstanding on the sidelines, but in all their various activities.

During summer camp the varsity cheerleaders received first place, likewise, the J.V. squad obtained a blue ribbon.

The cheerleaders spent much of their time in the service of the football and basketball squads. They put all the decals on the football helmets and boosted the basketball team's confidence by hiring "Nancy's Singing Messages."

Other activities included: sitting in a dunk tank for the American Diabetes Association, and being live models in the window of J. J. Jeans.

Moving counterclockwise from the top, Kim Peters, left, and Tina Howard discuss the events of the evening. Kathy Reigle, left, and Cyndi Wilfong cheer at a Saturday morning J.V. football game. Faye Fung cheers the basketball team on to victory. Keli Cornwell excites the crowd with an opening cheer. The J.V. cheerleaders take a snack break.

Majorettes

Undefeated champions was the only appropraite phrase to describe the 1981-82 majorettes. Their victories included: Hancock county champion high school majorette line, Northwest Ohio regional champion, and 1981 national high school majorette line champions. The national competition was held in Greensboro, North Carolina. The majorettes were also the Ohio state fair dance twirl and twirl team champions. They also placed first in every other competition held in the surrounding areas.

As in the past, the majorettes performed at football and basketball half-time shows. The highlighted performances were with Stan Mark and Jim Shisler.

The majorettes in action are, moving clockwise, Stacy Zorn saluting the crowd; Ronda Miles performing the "Chameleon" routine; Karen Kroetz putting on her best smile; and the majorettes relaxing after a halftime show.

Trojanettes

The trojanettes were thirty-five members strong, and they were looking good from their first performance to the last.

Every day from 2:00 p.m.-3:30 p.m. the girls met and practiced under the direction of Miss Kathy Siebenaler. They also practiced every Thursday evening for three hours. During these sessions they prepared half-time shows for the football and basketball games and routines for competition.

At competition the trojanettes' hard work was apparent. At the Northwest Ohio regional flag corps competition they were champions and rated as an "outstanding group." They were also the 1981 Hancock county flag corps champions. In addition, at the Zanesville drill team spectacular the trojanettes were the flag corps champions, and placed no lower than fourth in other events.

Student Council

Student Council does more than most students realize. Homecoming is an example of a major project handled by student council. They organize the parade, the hall decorations, the dance and spirit week. They also run the elections for homecoming king and queen. This year's homecoming theme "Disney on Parade" provided a good setting for the many activities.

Other student council activities this year included sophomore orientation, Toys for Tots program at Christmas time, management of concession stand at football games, organization of pep assemblies and a highly successful FM104 dance.

One of the most important things that Student Council did this year was to help the Blue and Gold raise money when the paper was in financial difficulty. The "Save the Paper" campaign was very successful and it shows how student council is willing to help anyone who asks.

Kevin Sorg and Monte Schaefer enjoy a sophomore class council meeting.

Yearbook

Every aspect of the yearbook looked good this year. A new advisor, a bigger staff and an improved book all played an important part.

Mr. Todd Gratz came to FHS from Central, and introduced many new ideas for The Trojan.

The size of the staff doubled which was, also, a needed factor in meeting each crucial deadline.

Under the direction of Mr. Jim Hayes, The Trojan experienced its best ads day ever which made all the little extras in the book possible.

To the right, Maria Langevin, organizations editor, types copy. Below, Cohan Dierksheide completes a receipt form for a student who bought a yearbook.

Preparing for their deadlines, Jim Arnold and sophomore portrait editor Marie Bacho work on their layouts.

Blue and Gold

The Blue and Gold staff got the year off to a good start using their $15,000 typesetter purchased last year. This computer makes production more efficient and is a major contributor in meeting deadlines.

Despite this advanced technology, the Blue and Gold encountered minor difficulties in publishing the paper this year. Problems with the typesetter, and snow-days put production behind schedule, but the major setback occurred halfway through the year when the Blue and Gold suffered a major financial crisis.

Not to be discouraged by their financial situation and anxious to start the presses rolling again, the staff, with the help of student council, conducted a "Save The Paper" campaign. The two groups managed to raise $400 from FHS students and staff, and, $2,000 from local businesses and individuals while Marathon Oil Company generously contributed an additional $2,000.

With great ease, Mrs. Mathern edits a staff writer's story about changes in the school.

Thinking of an original introduction for the "Just Kidding" column, Janet Kidd makes sure to write it on paper before she forgets.

Kathleen Mannion works diligently on her newspaper assignment for page two of the school paper.

In addition to learning the techniques of television production, students on the Trojan T.V. staff become actively involved in the recording of many school activities for replay on Findlay cable channel three. Directors Jim Newhard and John Morrison and technical director John Dunham assist advisers Cliff Hite and Barb Gebhardt in the organization of the various productions.

Food for Thought

Graffiti became Food for Thought but the content remained the same: the finest examples of creative writing by FHS students. Under the supervision of Mrs. King and editors George Susich and Mary Bihn, students submitted entries for each of the two publications, one published each semester. In addition to including poems, short stories and essays by FHS students, the literary magazine, for the first time, included writings solicited from local ninth grade students.

Mary Bihn and Mrs. Margaret King discuss some of the student submissions to be included in an upcoming edition of Food for Thought.

Honor Society

The National Honor Society is an organization which recognizes students with a 3.5 or better grade point average who participate in various extra-curricular activities. This year the Blue and Gold Chapter of the National Honor Society was very busy.

In the fall they inducted qualified seniors and in the spring eligible juniors were inducted. At homecoming, honor society had a float in the parade and the members decorated a hall for the hall decorations.

One of the most important activities of the year was to raise money to buy graduation honor stoles. In years past the only recognition honor society members received at the graduation ceremony was an asterisk by their name in the program. This year's members decided to change that tradition. They had a very successful fund raiser in which they sold stationery. The members raised enough money to buy the graduation honor stoles to be worn over their graduation gowns. These stoles will be a permanent part of the honor society.

Marathon Survives Corporate Scare

Nationwide attention focused on Findlay when two major U.S. companies competed for control of Marathon Oil. After courting the stockholders, U.S. Steel and Mobil Oil did legal battle to determine who would gain control. With the takeover by Mobil Oil, Marathon Oil headquarters would have left Findlay which would have had a devastating effect on our economy. It was with great relief and with an outcry of support from Findlay citizens that U.S. Steel received a legal greenlight to complete the takeover.

Business World Fights Raging Blanchard

June 14 and 15 of 1981 will be days remembered for years to come by Findlay residents. On these days, the Blanchard river's raging waters overran their banks causing the worst flooding since 1913. Waters reaching 17 feet above flood stage caused massive damage to local businesses and residences.

In areas along the river, water rose five to six feet deep completely flooding the interiors of shops and homes. Homeowners and shopkeepers lost thousands of dollars in belongings and stock. It took several weeks before the city could get back into its normal routine.

At the start of the 1981-82 school year the Blanchard again swelled causing flooding in many parts of town but nothing to the extent of the early summer swell.

Pride of Achievement

"The pacesetter in plastic drainage products and technology," Hancor, Incorporated, Findlay, Ohio salutes the Findlay High School Trojans.

We at Hancor recognize and appreciate the satisfaction that comes from a thing well done . . . like producing a successful drainage product, for example.

It's that same pride of achievement we see in athletic competition and academic endeavors at Findlay High School. We wish you continued success at combining talent, dedication and most of all, Trojan pride into a winning team.

During the early part of 1982, gas prices fell drastically. After reaching over $1.30 a gallon in the Findlay area, prices dropped to a low of $1.06 here and even below the $1.00 level in other parts of the country. This decrease was due, in part, to the use of more gas efficient cars and better consumer conservation. With an excess of oil on the international market, the OPEC nations cut production and gas prices again began to rise. The photo above reflects what may be the lowest gallon price we'll ever see.

FHS looking great!

Another successful year has been completed. FHS has always looked good and this year was no exception. The accomplishments were numerous especially in athletics and academics. Each sport had athletes excel and many seniors were given awards and scholarships. Not only were students honored, but a few teachers were honored for their teaching abilities. Findlay High School has many traditions but one thing for sure — we take pride in looking good!

Many juniors and seniors are getting advice on future education from college representatives.

Decorating the junior class billboard, Angie Fenton tries to be creative.

Chefs Dave Barnhill and Yvonne Mann are cooking up a gourmet meal.

Dan Hosler prepares a prop for the Hello Dolly production.

One student's view of the "preppie" style.

Raising money for guidance scholarships through a carnation sale, Mr. Fulmer and Mr. Asel pass out the flowers.

Hard work, good times and dedication help make FHS look good and also, # 1.

Moving clockwise across both pages, Ronn Waller, Barb Weaver, Don Guy, Tracy Hession and Mike Lundeen enjoy the courtyard scene after lunch.

Mr. Hite can do two things at once — teach and eat a donut.

After 15 years as engineer, Cliff Woodward has sure done a terrific job keeping FHS looking good. Here he checks the boiler in the engine room with the local fire marshall.

Making various outfits in sewing class, Donna Brooker starts to cut out her pattern for a skirt.

Chris Hughes helps grow the beautiful flowers around the school in Bio I Class.

The combined efforts of students, teachers and staff all create a good-looking atmosphere at Findlay High School.

Looking Good

From the Editor:

Looking Good, the theme for the 1982 yearbook, was quite appropriate this school year. Everything seemed to go smoothly; each crucial yearbook deadline was met easily (for the most part). There also seemed to be more good times and pride in each staff member's work than frustration or anger.

All this credit goes to one person who kept everyone on their toes — Mr. Gratz. I don't know what I would have done without such an excellent adivsor. More gratitude goes to Mr. Hayes for providing a budget which let us be more creative (which always seems to cost more money). Mr. Hayes also survived a week at yearbook workshop at Ohio University with Carolyn and I which, in itself, deserves praise.

I want to personally thank each fantastic staff member: Chris, Julie, Beth, Jim, Angie, Kathleen, Marie, Missy, Maria, Cohan, Matt, Sandi, Brad, Jim, and Matt. I must also thank some of the people that had a crucial part in the production of the book: Tom Kiess and Bob Hastings of Taylor Publishing and all the photographers from Woodard Photographic.

My family and friends deserve a huge thanks also for putting up with me.

I've really enjoyed capturing all the memories of the 1981-82 school year, and I hope everyone enjoys this book.
